

WALKER ASSAILS SEABURY; DENIES OUSTER CHARGES

Declares Answer to His Defense Was 'Blatant Hypocrisy,' and That Inquiry Was 'Inquisition.'

ASKS ROOSEVELT TO HEAR WITNESSES

Accuses Prosecutor of 'Deliberate Disregard' of Truth and Distorting Statements of Mayor.

By the Associated Press. ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Mayor James J. Walker of New York City, facing a public hearing before Gov. Roosevelt Thursday on charges of official misconduct, denied last night any allegations of wrongdoing.

His denial was a sur-rebuttal to the reply which Samuel Seabury made to the Mayor's defense against charges filed by Seabury. Seabury had asked that the Governor remove Walker.

In a four-page communication to Roosevelt Walker called Seabury a "reckless and partisan prosecutor" and declared Seabury conducted a "one-sided inquisition" before the Hofstadter Legislative Committee.

In New York, former Mayor Hylan issued a statement saying Walker should resign immediately as a protest against what he called the "unfairness and injustice of being compelled to defend himself in an atmosphere 'which is bound to be political.'"

Walker, talking with New York reporters, indicated he would insist on an opportunity to cross-examine witnesses Thursday. This was taken to mean he would seek to question Seabury and thus reverse the roles they played at the Hofstadter Committee hearings.

Walker, who was subjected to long interrogation by Seabury, "Deliberate Distortions."

In the formal reply, Seabury was accused by Walker of resorting to "deliberate distortion of my answer; repudiation of his own written statements, and wilful misrepresentation of the evidence."

Walker took Seabury to task for implying the Mayor was seeking to "refuse to accept the statute of limitations when he told the Governor that two-thirds of Seabury's conclusions were barred by virtue of being based on acts that allegedly occurred during Walker's first term."

Seabury, in his last communication, remarked this was a plea "which one is not obliged to make if he is willing to meet issues on their merits."

Walker, replying, said: "As your excellency well knows, and as anybody who took the trouble to read my answer well knows, I answered each of the 15 'conclusions' or charges submitted by Mr. Seabury on the merits. As you also know, I expressly stated in my answer: 'I shall meet every one of these conclusions on the facts. The purpose which animated the filing of all of them is defeated by a recital of the truth. I do this in order that there may be no misapprehension as to whether the facts would justify official consideration by you, even though well settled authority does bar two-thirds of them.'"

"Blatant Hypocrisy."

Seabury's assertion that it was "a sorry sight indeed to see a person occupying high public office, whose honor is impugned, taking the position that the people must suffer him to continue in his public office because he was fortunate enough not to be caught in time," provoked this statement from Walker: "I have no word at my command that could adequately characterize such blatant hypocrisy, in the face of my answer."

"I met every 'conclusion' on the merits, and more than a third of my answer was devoted to a discussion of them 'on the merits.' My primary purpose in submitting to you a long and conclusive list of authorities in support of my states was to make it plain that certain of the conclusions or charges submitted by Mr. Seabury were presented either in inexcusable ignorance of the law or in utter disregard of it. His attempts to evade and get around these authorities is a 'sorry sight indeed.'"

Walker declared that Seabury, acting as "prosecutor, judge and jury" in a procedure not a trial, professed to have proved him guilty.

Young Second Wife; Muskogee Pastor Indicted for Poisoning First Mate

Decision Follows Dispute Over Presence—Officers Still Predict Approval.

By the Associated Press. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 9.—Officers of the Illinois miners' union, reiterating their belief the proposed $5 wage contract on which the rank and file voted in a second referendum would carry, announced today representatives of union locals throughout the State would be permitted to watch the official ballot count.

Yesterday a group of miners delegated by the locals as "watchers," protested that they were asked to leave the mine headquarters. The official count, however, had not begun at the time and as the tellers set to work, the delegates were permitted to select six of their number to look on.

Unofficial newspaper tabulations still showed the vote 15,530 to 14,285 against the scale, but the returns were incomplete and many large downstate locals were missing. Walter Nesbit of Belleville, secretary of the State union, said the unofficial tally of the mine headquarters continued to indicate victory for the scale.

Nesbit expressed belief the tellers would complete their count by tomorrow night provided that all of the locals sent in their official returns in time. Many ledgers, principally from the southern part of the State, were still missing.

Of the six men chosen by the local delegates, three sat in with the tellers today and three will watch tomorrow. They are Frank Bosmer, Sub-District No. 9, West Frankfort; Jack Rippen, Sub-District No. 3, Danville; Dan McGill, Sub-District No. 4, Springfield; Anton Novak, Sub-District No. 5, Panama; A. Sted, Sub-District No. 6, Gillespie; and Fred Alabastro, Sub-District No. 8, Duquoin.

AMERICAN WOMAN SHOT BY KIDNAPERS IN CHINA. Miss Helen Barchet in Hospital at Ningpo, Seriously Wounded by Bandits.

By the Associated Press. SHANGHAI, Aug. 9.—Miss Helen Barchet, whose father was superintendent of the Ningpo American Baptist Hospital, was seriously injured by bandits who attempted to kidnap her. Peiping dispatches announce today.

Dr. Harold Thomas, the present superintendent of the hospital, said she was shot through the hips. He said she had an even chance for recovery.

Miss Barchet, a middle-aged woman who was born in China, formerly was a nurse at the Rockefeller Hospital in Peiping. She is not attached to any American mission in China.

Bandits seized her July 31 near Ningpo, when she was on her way to a mission. She was taken to a place where she was held for ransom. She was released after a ransom of $10,000 was paid.

Recall of Irish Official From Conference Reported. DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Aug. 9.—The new agricultural program of the Irish Free State Government, in which the encouragement of wheat growing figures prominently, is understood to have led to the recall of Dr. James Ryan, Minister of Agriculture, from the Imperial economic conference at Ottawa.

Accompanied by F. J. Meyrick, secretary of his department, Dr. Ryan is reported to have left Ottawa last night.

There is a possibility that the Dal Eireann may be asked to vote a wheat subsidy for next season as the Government considers that out of 1,000,000 acres of arable land 250,000 sown to wheat will not be excessive.

Held After Resisting Arrest. Probationary Patrolman Parker reported he was forced to use his night stick last night on a man who objected to answering questions and resisted arrest. Taken to City Hospital he described himself as Harry Warberry, 321 Hickory street. He had been sitting in an automobile parked at Hickory and Paul streets. He was said to be suffering from a broken left wrist, bruises and alcoholism.

ELDON, Mo., Aug. 9.—Clarence Harold Jeffries, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Tucker Jeffries of Brumley, was drowned in the Lake of the Oaks near Zebra last night when he unknowingly stepped into deep water. A companion with whom he was swimming went immediately to notify his father and the body was recovered about half an hour later by one of a group of Kansas Boy Scouts encamped nearby.

Says Pal in Robbery Killed Salesman

Tenth street, police found that Daley and his mother had roomed there with Mrs. Rolly Graham until last Thursday and that Joe Fernandez, a friend of Daley, lived upstairs with his widowed mother, Mrs. Mathilda Fernandez, and several younger brothers and sisters.

Last week, the police were informed Mrs. Graham moved to an address on South Ninth street. Mrs. Daley went back to her former home at Bellevue, Mo., near Ironton, and young Daley went to the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Redmon, who live upstairs at 418 Victor street, where he stayed Wednesday night.

At noon today, Joe Fernandez, who had been out selling soap from door to door, returned home and was arrested by detectives of the South Street Police Station who had been waiting there for him. After preliminary questioning at the district station, he was taken to Police Headquarters.

"Daley asked me that morning to go out with him and get a demonstration of an automobile," Fernandez told police. "He said he was going to buy one for his sister. I told him I couldn't go, that I had to go out and sell soap."

The man who employed Fernandez to sell soap lived on Hickory street and about noon, Fernandez said, he went there. Daley and the other man, he said, drove up on a long afternoon in a green automobile and told him they had stolen it.

"They asked me if I wanted to go to Chicago with them," Fernandez said, "and I told them, 'I should say not—no in a million.' They drove on then and I supposed they had gone to Chicago."

An intensive police search for the third man in the case, named by Daley as the actual driver of King, was begun shortly before noon on information furnished by Fernandez and Daley. The police have his name and have been informed that until recently he was a lodger at 1317 Hickory street.

Daley was arrested Wednesday early today rather than a green automobile and parked the automobile while negotiating for more. Sheriff Stottliemyer, who received a telephone call that a suspicious-looking car had been seen leaving the city, was sent to a side street in Greenfield, had not been informed of the murder of King.

The Sheriff took Daley into custody because his shabby appearance and the fact he was trying to sell a car to buy gasoline, were not in keeping with the flashy appearance of the new green Hummobile cabriolet. Daley explained.

"I was driving the car and he was purchasing the car and he was driving it from the Hummobile factory near Detroit to St. Louis for the Hummobile dealer in St. Louis."

Investigation by Sheriff. Sheriff Stottliemyer told the Post-Dispatch, "but he didn't have a single thing to identify himself. Didn't have his name on a letter or anything. So I told him to come with me to my office with me and I would call the Hummobile dealer in St. Louis and satisfy myself it was all right. Then he could go on, I told him."

"He seemed kind of uneasy when I put the phone call in, and when I got the call through, he jumped up and ran. I hung up the receiver and ran after him. Must have chased him about three squares before I ran him down."

"When he told me that he and another fellow had stolen the car, I said the salesman had let them take it out by themselves and they had just kept going with it. He said the other fellow had been with him all along and was somewhere around Greenfield."

"I called the Hummobile dealer again and found out what really had happened to the salesman. Then I questioned Daley some more and he told me he had been alone in the car ever since he left St. Louis after the murder. Since then I've been so busy talking to the St. Louis police and newspapers that I haven't had time to talk to him any more."

St. Louis police were on Daley's trail, it was learned today, with the arrest in Bloomington, Ill., of Ralph Kraft, an automobile mechanic, who told officers there that, although he did not know about the murder, he knew Daley as Odenwalder who was introduced by a mutual friend and who roomed with him until recently, explaining he had no money and no other place to stay.

Kraft said "Odenwalder" returned to Bloomington Friday night, driving a new green Hummobile cabriolet, and was there with it Saturday morning.

LIBBY HOLMAN LEAVES CAROLINA VILLAGE AT 2 A. M.

Suddenly Returns to Retirement After Arraignment on Murder Charge and Release on Bond.

DATE FOR HER TRIAL NOT DETERMINED

May Not Take Place Until After Birth of Child Expected by Smith Reynolds' Widow.

Victim's Joking Remark.

King, who lived at 5567 Hibernia street and had been employed by the Weber company seven years, was 35 years old and unmarried. Preparing for the demonstration last Friday morning, he remarked wryly to another employee, "Well, it looks like I'm going to be taken for a ride."

His meaning was not that which is implied by the phrase, as among automobile salesmen to be "taken for a ride" means to demonstrate an automobile to someone who wants a free ride, but that he had no intention of buying a car.

King and his slayers left the automobile agency at 9 o'clock and, when he had not returned at 2 o'clock, officers of the company reported him missing. His body was found at 4:45, shot once through the back and with a heavy bruise beside the right eye. Physicians said he had been dead several hours.

SECOND BAPTIST CALLS 30-YEAR-OLD PASTOR

The Rev. G. H. Tolley of Kansas City 'Very Much Inclined' to Accept.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—Clashes between David L. Hutton, husband of Mrs. Almee Temple McPherson Hutton, evangelist, and R. A. Watkins, deposed Angelus Temple commissary head, disclosed yesterday at a City Social Service Commission hearing that Temple charity workers were entitled to 30 per cent of all funds they collected.

When evidence was produced showing Watkins' salary was $400 monthly, Hutton shouted: "I'll trade jobs with you. I can't get that much as manager of the Temple."

Watkins testified he had paid "a lot" of the 30 per cent commissions to charity collectors personally.

"The total net income to the commissary so far this year was $5012, and I received only $387 salary up to July 1," he said. "I have to audit my bank book, because I can't tell how much I paid out of my own funds to charity collectors."

The investigation of what officials termed "charity racketeering" started after police arrested a man on charges of possessing a still. The still, police said, was traced to Angelus Temple, where parts of it had been assembled from odds and ends solicited for charity by Temple workers.

Selection of the Rev. Mr. Tolley by the Second Baptist recalled that one of its neighbors in the monumental Washington-Kingshighway group is led by a pastor in his 30s. Rabbi Ferdinand M. Iserman, who has become a factor in the civic life of St. Louis, was only 31 when he was called to Temple Israel.

The Rev. Mr. Tolley spoke at a Thursday evening assembly at Second Baptist Church last April with such effect that he was invited to preach at Sunday services in June. Meeting him and his wife, who has an excellent soprano voice, the congregation was pleased with both. The Tolleys have one child, a girl 14 months old.

A subcommittee headed by Sam E. Heffernan recommended the Rev. Mr. Tolley, after considering several possibilities, to the general committee, headed by Superintendent H. J. Gerling of the public schools, which had been appointed on Dr. Jones' resignation. The committee's choice was warmly approved in last night's meeting.

The Rev. Mr. Tolley was trained at Colgate-Rochester Seminary, Rochester, N. Y. Nominally an assistant pastor of First Baptist Church in Kansas City, he has been performing the full duties of the pastorate for several months in the absence of the Rev. A. Ray Petty on sick leave.

Wants to Be Tried for Killing Husband Before Child Is Born.

By the Associated Press.

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Aug. 9.—Libby Holman Reynolds, faced with a charge of killing her husband, wants an immediate trial, if possible, before the birth of her baby. Benet Polikoff, one of her attorneys, made this statement here today. Polikoff said: "We want to go to trial as soon as possible. If physicians think the ordeal will not endanger the life of the unborn child, Mrs. Reynolds would prefer to face the charges before the child is born."

CHICAGO WIDOW INDICTED AS HUSBAND-SLAYER, IT IS SAID

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—Mrs. Dorothy Poliak was reported indicted today by the grand jury charged with the murder of her husband Joseph, South Side liquor dealer and money lender, who was twice her age. She was held without bail. She confessed, police said, that she shot her husband after a quarrel over his attentions to another woman. Her cousin, Mrs. Victoria Schultz, was reported named in a true bill as an accessory after the fact. Her father, Simon Myzsa, was said to have been cleared by a not-true bill vote of the grand jury.

TO ASK GOVERNOR TO BLOCK HANGING OF A. B. MEADOWS

Attorneys to Present Second Plea for Watchman Sentenced to Die Friday for Murder-Arson.

A plea for commutation of the death sentence of Andrew B. Meadows, 55-year-old night watchman, will be made to Gov. Caulfield tomorrow by the condemned man's attorneys, Herbert H. Blair and Forrest C. Donnell, following the refusal of five United States Supreme Court justices to consider a stay of execution.

Meadows was sentenced to death for his part in the burning of the Buckingham Annex Hotel, Dec. 5, 1927, when seven lives were lost. The hanging is set for Friday morning.

One point to be urged in favor of commutation is that there is too great a disparity between the 10-year sentence for Robert Cotham, who confessed complicity in the case, and that of Meadows, whose attorneys contend he was only a tool.

Another argument is based on the fact that Meadows was a principal witness for the State at the trial of Ralph Pierson, minority stockholder of the hotel, also under death sentence. Pierson's case is still on appeal before the Missouri Supreme Court and Meadows' attorneys contend that in event of a reversal, Meadows would be an invaluable witness at a retrial. They say there is no instance of use of testimony in transcript after a witness has been executed.

The fact that Meadows was a witness at Pierson's trial is held by his attorneys to have been a "substantial" service to the State and worthy of clemency in return.

Blair and Donnell conferred with Circuit Attorney Miller for an hour yesterday afternoon regarding the case and, although the Circuit Attorney later announced he would take no action, he will be in Jefferson City today on a vacation trip and will call at the Governor's office.

Donnell went East last week with a written application for a stay of execution which he presented to the five justices of the United States Supreme Court. The argument he presented orally was that the stay be granted pending application for a writ of certiorari to force the Missouri Supreme Court to send up for review the records in recent habeas corpus proceedings in the case. The Missouri Supreme Court had overruled the contention of Meadows' attorneys that the Missouri capital punishment law is illegal.

Each of the five justices, who constitute a majority of the Supreme Court, passed only on the right of the Missouri Court to determine the legality of the capital punishment law, upholding that right. The justices, who were interviewed at their homes, are Justices McReynolds, Butler, Brandeis, Cardozo and Stone.

Donnell said the only money paid for the trip was $100 contributed by a relative of Meadows. He entered the case a month ago to assist Blair, appointed by Circuit Judge Taylor to represent the night watchman.

The hanging of Meadows and Emmerson White, Negro convicted of murder, was originally set for July 15, stays of execution being

GIRL SAYS SHE WAS WARNED NOT TO APPEAR IN COURT

Not Present When Case of One of Six Men Accused of Attacking Her Is Called.

Investigating the failure of a 19-year-old girl to appear in Court of Criminal Correction yesterday against Joseph Brennan, one of six men accused of criminally attacking her, police were told she had been warned to stay away from court. The case against Brennan, set for preliminary hearing, was continued.

The young woman told police a man who described himself as a friend of Brennan went to her home in the 2800 block of Madison street yesterday morning and told her: "It is best for you to stay home unless you want to end in the hospital. I'll be watching your house." The description of her visitor was broadcast and police were instructed to arrest him for intimidating a witness.

MAN WHO BUILT FIRST FACTORY FOR FORD, DIES

Albert Strelow, One of Original Stockholders, Sold His $1 Share in 1906.

By the Associated Press.

DETROIT, Aug. 9.—Albert Strelow, one of the original stockholders of the Ford Motor Co., died last night at the age of 78 in his modest frame house on Van Dyke avenue.

Mr. Strelow owned the building at Mack and Bellevue avenues which housed the first Ford factory. He was induced by Alexander F. Malcomson, Ford's original financial backer, to build a shop for the new enterprise and invest $5000 in it. When Malcomson broke away from Ford in 1906, Strelow decided to quit the company and sold his 1.8 shares of stock to James Couzens, now United States Senator, for $45,000. This he put back into the building business.

The clinic will last from 10:30 to 11:30 a. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 1210 MacKilkin avenue, and from 3 to 4 p. m. Wednesdays at 1618 Carr street.

FALL OVER STUMP FATAL

Henry Keyton, 59 years old, a machinist, of Crystal City, Mo., died today at the residence of his brother, Dr. John Keyton, 3450 South Jefferson avenue, of blood poisoning resulting from an injury suffered in a fall 10 days ago.

Keyton was fishing near Crystal City when he stumbled over a stump, injuring his left side. Blood poisoning set in, and last Saturday he was taken to his brother's home granted by the Missouri Supreme Court the night before in order to allow appeal to the higher court. White was not represented by counsel and action in his case was on the Court's own motion, on the theory that the question of legality of the capital punishment law also applied in his case.

Even if Meadows' sentence is stayed again or commuted to life imprisonment, White will be hanged unless some separate action is taken in his case.

SCRUBWOMAN AT LAST FINDS REST SHE SOUGHT

Randi Lerohl Is Left Alone, as She Requested, on Mississippi Delta.

By the Associated Press.

GRAND ISLE, La., Aug. 9.—Randi Lerohl, the scrubwoman who rowed down the Mississippi River and into this delta region to get away from civilization is living here among the descendants of the pirate Jean Lafitte, and she likes it.

To the natives of French, Spanish, German and other extractions, she is the "mystery woman." When she arrived there months ago they welcomed her with their frugal hospitality, but she would have none of it.

"I want to be left alone," she said. She has been left alone.

The United States Coast Guard station has added her to its guarding duties. She first anchored a stone's throw from where Lafitte and his crew once moored the fleet that preyed on Spanish galleons. The Coast Guard towed her into the sheltered waters of Bay des Ilettes and anchored her craft, The Wanderer, in the quiet waters back of this island.

Here she has stayed in the Gulf of Mexico's hot sun and soft breezes which once she said she hoped would bring relief to a back bent from miles of floors scrubbed clean.

That she has found the land of her desire is vouched for by John Ludwig, whose old store is the island's postoffice, and Capt. Marton Anderson, head of the Coast Guard.

To Ludwig's store the scrubwoman goes monthly for provisions, paying with the old large dollar bills.

Her skiff is secured to the lifeboat which New Orleans sympathizers gave her. A canvas cabin protects her from the rain. Therein she defies any breach of the privacy she demands. And the natives respect her wishes.

Grocer Ludwig said that on every provision trip the aged woman asked for a letter from St. Paul, Minn., a letter with money. The last trip she bought cord and said she would make a crabbing net.

phoned to President von Hindenburg Who Gives
Approval.By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Aug. 8.—President von Hindenburg today approved a new emergency decree by which the German Government hopes to put an end to political violence which has cost more than 100 lives in two months. The substance of the decrees, prepared by the Von Papen Cabinet, was telephoned to him at his summer estate at Neudeck.At the same time the Government issued an order extending to Sept. 1 a period of political truce
during which all outdoor political meetings will be forbidden. The one exception is Constitution Day, Aug. 11, when assemblies will be permitted.Returning from a holiday to find fighting and sabotage still going on, Chancellor von Papen called his Cabinet together to plan to use the stern measures, in order to restore peace throughout the Reich.In a brief communique issued last night after riots had taken two more lives, he declared the Government would take the most drastic measures and added: "Our authority must be wielded brutally."
Since his Government took office June 2, more than 100 persons have been killed and nearly 1500
seriously injured in political fights.

Decision Too Late.

The Central newspaper Germania says the decision "comes eight days too late" and other Republican newspapers express themselves
as aghast that Adolf Hitler's storm troopers, participants in most of the riots, were being enlisted as auxiliary police in Brunswick.While dozens of his followers were being arrested in East Prussia and Silesia in connection with outrages
there.The text of the emergency decrees which the Cabinet considered called for the death penalty in extreme cases. It also provided for special "speed" courts to deal with crimes known as "terroristic," including gun totting, flooding, arson,
bombing and attempts to tamper with the railways, regardless of whether loss of life were involved.The special courts will be set up in Berlin, East Prussia, Silesia, Schleswig-Holstein, Brandenburg
and possibly in Brunswick.In Western and Southern Germany, where order generally has prevailed, such steps were considered unnecessary.Besides provision of the death penalty, all other penalties on the statute books will be increased in severity.

More Disorders Reported.

Bombings were reported from Gleitwitz, Silesia, where the homes of a Communist alderman and a Socialist were attacked.A secretary of the Reichsbanner organization named Simsch was found in a ditch shot and stabbed to death at Leobuch.A fresh outbreak was recorded in Schleswig, where a Jewish store
was bombed as well as the home of a Jewish citizen.In smaller towns in East Prussia
the citizens were called out to form auxiliary police forces. Several fights occurred in Hamburg and 160 persons were arrested.At Breslau a National Socialist was fatally injured when a bomb exploded prematurely in his hands.
At Seidenberg a member of the Reichsbanner was killed. At Marienburg a child received serious injuries when a hand grenade was tossed into its bedroom.The Socialist newspaper at Reichenbach was bombed by National Socialists. At Wuechelberg bullets splattered the house of a Reichsbanner member. The Centrist party newspaper at Muen-sterberg was raised by shots. Windows were broken in the homes of Jewish residents of Strehlen."Leadership or Fight."
The Hitlerite organ in Berlin demands that the National Socialists be given "a decisive influence in the Government's course."This is interpreted as meaning the more radical members of the party have prevailed on Hitler to challenge Von Papen for the chancellorship, which was contrary to Hitler's original intention."If we are denied the leadership," the editorial says, "there is only one answer—a ruthless fight."TRIBUTE TO MRS. HAMMAR
FROM HEAD OF RED CROSSA telegram from John Barton
Payne, national chairman of the American Red Cross, was received yesterday at the home of Mrs.
Frank V. Hammar, founder and chairman of the St. Louis Chapter of the Red Cross, who died Sunday."The news of Mrs. Hammar's death brings a profound sense of loss to the whole Red Cross," Payne wrote. "Her enthusiasm, sound judgment and ability to achieve practical results made her indispensable. My deepest personal sympathy and that of the entire Red Cross are with you in this hour of bereavement." The message was addressed to her husband.Funeral services at the home, 7 Hortense place, were conducted this morning by the Rev. Rufus Putney, superintendent of St.
Luke's Hospital. George E. Scott of Chicago, a member of the Red Cross Central National Committee, of which Mrs. Hammar was also a member, attended as the official representative of the Red Cross.

WET-DRY CONGRESS CHOICES IN KENTUCKY

Clear-Cut Issue With Democratic Nominees for Repeal,
G. O. P. for Prohibition.By the Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 9.—Prospects of a wet and dry fight
in the November congressional election were increased by primary returns today from about half of the precincts in the State.Only one of the 27 Democratic candidates for the nine at-large nominations supported prohibition.
The one dry was N. Gray Rochester, and he was apparently badly beaten.Only three of the 24 Republican candidates were wet, favoring repealing the eighteenth amendment,
and none of them had much chance of nomination. Three were Adolph Graves, J. B. Wise and George L.
Phillips.All the other Democratic candidates supported the Democratic repeal plank and the other Republican candidates either supported prohibition or said they inherited their party's national platform.
Senator Alben W. Barkley, temporary chairman of the Democratic National Convention, seemed certain of renomination. Returns from 212 precincts out of 4195
gave him 60,537 votes to 25,524 for former Senator George B. Martin and 2195 for Dr. J. F. Wright. All three supported the repeal plank of their party's platform.Republicans will nominate their senatorial candidate in convention
Sept. 7.

BRIDESMAID AND BEST MAN SAVE WEDDING CELEBRATION

They Announce Own Elopement
When Brother and Sister Fail to Appear for Ceremony.By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 9.—The bride and bridegroom didn't appear for the wedding, so the wedding party celebrated the elopement of the bride and best man.Dr. Robert Herbst, physics instructor at Columbia University,
and Miss Martha Catching, San Francisco art student, were to have been married at St. Luke's Church here last night. When they failed to appear the ceremony was "indefinitely postponed" and the couple's brother and sister announced their own wedding.A courtship which began when Fred P. Herbst, New York seed importer, came here Saturday to attend his brother's wedding, he disclosed, culminated in his elopement Sunday to Reno with Miss Ann Catching. They met for the first time in New York a year ago.
Professing ignorance as to the whereabouts of his brother and Miss Martha Catching, Fred Herbst suggested today: "Maybe they have eloped."

80 Gallons of Alcohol Seized.

The police liquor squad visited a bungalow at 6064 Shulte avenue
yesterday afternoon, and reported finding 80 gallons of alcohol hidden in a garage and in a cache beneath the house. A man describing himself as Joseph Memina, who the officers say, admitted them to the premises, was arrested.

PRESIDENT HOOVER WILL BE 58 TOMORROW

He Will Spend Day Working on Acceptance Speech While Cake Bakes.WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—To-President Hoover tomorrow will be the day for polishing off his acceptance speech for delivery
Thursday, but to Mrs. Hoover it will be her husband's birthday.
While he is putting finishing touches on his speech a White House chef belowstairs will be putting the finishing touches on a birthday cake. If the cake has candles, there will be 58.Mrs. Hoover always sees to it that at least a cake is baked in celebration of her husband's birthday. The Hoover grandchildren, Feggy Ann and Herbert III, known as Peter, will not be there to help Grandpa blow out his candles and add a touch of youthful enthusiasm to the occasion, as they did at the Christmas holidays last year.
None of the family is expected to come on from the West coast, so there will be no family party, but a few friends may be invited to the executive mansion for a quiet
dinner.A birthday card, containing 40-000 signatures and, weighing 40 pounds, is scheduled to be among the many birthday cards that friends and officials will send to Mr. Hoover.The "card," which will contain 30 pages, has been elaborately decorated and colored by Ernest Dudley Chase of Boston. On one page will be a photograph of the President's birthplace at West Branch, Ia., surrounded by the autographs
of many of his friends who still live in the "home town." Among them are Mrs. Mollie Carron, Mr.
Hoover's first school teacher, Fred Albin and Bert Gill, his school boy friends, and Dr. L. J. Leech, once the Hoover family physician, still practicing medicine at the age of 86.The "card" will be 30 by 40 inches in size, and the signatures
will represent friends of the President from every walk of life. It will be sent to Washington by freight.A cake will be sent to the President by the officers of the United States Lines, the boy scouts of Washington are expected to pay their respects according to custom,
and various Cabinet members and officials probably will call during the day.Until the birthday cake comes on at dinner time, at least, the day will be "just another day" to the President. He probably will spend it at work in the White House offices.

time, he will go to Europe for a

GASOLINE RELIEF TAX IS ATTACKED IN SUIT

Four Oil Concerns Seek to Enjoin Collection of Half-Cent Levy.Suits were filed in Circuit Court yesterday asking that city officials
be enjoined from attempting to collect the additional half cent a gallon tax on gasoline enacted last February as an emergency relief measure for the unemployed.The gasoline tax increase, which made the total city tax 1 cent, was expected to yield about $400,000 annually. In the six months since it was adopted it has produced
$204,092.Plaintiffs in the suit are Stolk
Oil Co., Tanker Gas Co., Silco Oil
Co. and Two Cities Service Co.
These companies operate 15 filling stations in St. Louis.Their attorney, Edward G. Davidson, said they had not collected the tax from consumers and had not paid it to the city. The city's claim for unpaid taxes, he said, amounts to $5000 or $6000.The ordinance providing for the increased tax is attacked as unconstitutional on the ground that it is class legislation and that it seeks to collect money for private purposes, although taxes can be levied for public purposes only. It is contended the amendment is not proper because it is not germane to the original ordinance.Another objection is based on the technicality that the increase was enacted as an amendment to the existing gasoline tax ordinance,
which provided that the proceeds
be used for maintenance of streets.
It is contended the amendment is not proper because it is not germane to the original ordinance.

SLAIN IN FIGHT WITH POLICE

FLINT, Mich., Aug. 9.—Police are investigating a shooting affray
in which Gano Piliwancheff, 42 years old, wounded Patrolman John Wopinski, and exchanged many shots with police reinforcements
on a crowded street before he fell dead with eight bullet wounds.Piliwancheff, apparently demented, opened fire when Wopinski
stopped his speech on a street corner last night.

TELLS RETAILERS TO WATCH 'MAIN STREET' ON STYLES

C. L. Brittain Declares Goods Preferred by Own Customers Shows Trend Better Than Paris.

Main street, rather than Paris, is the place to determine the trend of fashion, C. L. Brittain, owner of a women's apparel store, said last night at the first of two educational sessions of the American Retailers' Association at Hotel Jefferson.

The smart merchant will observe the type of merchandise preferred by his own customers, Brittain said, rather than seek styles from distant places. Other speakers were J. J. Scott, merchandising counsel, who spoke on "The Art of Selling Shoes," and F. J. Nichols, director of the Merchants' Service Bureau of the National Cash Register Co., who stressed the importance of careful store management in insuring profits.

The delegates, comprising several hundred retailers, will attend the Municipal Opera tonight.

The final educational session will be held tomorrow night. J. O. Moore, merchandising analyst, will discuss problems of management. Miss Georgia F. Wittich, personnel director at the Stix, Baer & Fuller Co., will speak on salesmanship training methods. Sidney E. Carter, advertising and sales promotion expert specialist, will outline methods of procuring customers.

Officers of the association will be elected Thursday at a directors' luncheon meeting. The Nominating Committee yesterday placed in nomination the following merchants to fill vacancies on the board:

Ben Allen, Washington, Ind.; Julius Becker, Springfield, Ariz.; Charles Carroll, Oark, Ala.; Julius Dupont, Hauma, La.; M. H. Forrester, Ottawa, Kan.; A. A. Kuhnle, Troy, Mo.; John Lotties, Ferryville, Mo.; G. H. Rankin, Columbia, Miss.; Guy Stinson, Norfolk, Neb.; E. K. Van Aernam, Crosscut, Ark.; Robert Wolff, Worthington, Minn., and Clement J. Zerr, Fort Madison, Ia.

Nomination by the committee is tantamount to election.

Smoothing Things Over

RALPH HILL, star American distance runner, and LAURI LEHTINEN (right), wiped out all bitterness when they received their Olympic medals at Los Angeles. The young Finn was booed the day before when he ran in front of the American as they approached the finish. Hill refused to protest, and to show that there were no hard feelings the two athletes traded pins. Lehtinen gave Hill his Finnish team pin. Hill is affixing an American pin to the lapel of the Finn's coat.

CHARGES AGAINST TWO IN BANKER'S KIDNAPING

Abduction of John B. Colegrove for Ransom Alleged at Taylorville, Ill.

By the Associated Press
TAYLORVILLE, Ill., Aug. 9.—Charges of kidnaping for ransom, a capital offense, have been filed against the two men held as suspects in the kidnaping and beating of John B. Colegrove, 69-year-old head of a defunct bank here. The charges were placed after Colegrove, recovering in a Springfield hospital from serious head wounds and the effects of more than 36 hours' exposure, told State's Attorney Harry B. Grundy his kidnapers had demanded $30,000 ransom and that he previously had received threatening letters signed allegedly by James Gammaitoni, one of those held.

Gammaitoni and Amelio Pouzouti, seized with him a few hours after Colegrove disappeared, refused to explain the presence of Colegrove's pocketbook and other personal belongings which officials said they found at Gammaitoni's home near Springfield.

Grundy and T. P. Sullivan, head of the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation, questioned Colegrove only briefly as he was still weak from his experience. He told them he thought four men participated in the kidnaping, although he saw only two when he was set upon in his small home Friday night.

The State's Attorney said he had learned that Pouzouti, whom he suspected of being a professional extortionist, had been living a secluded life in this neighborhood for two months. Pouzouti came from Detroit, Mich., and Grundy planned to inquire of police there whether he had a criminal record. Colegrove, able to give some details of the kidnaping for the first time, said two men attacked him just after he had entered his house.

The banker was slugged with a blackjack, pushed into an automobile and driven away. Neighbors heard his cries but found the home empty when they reached it after a long drive during which his hands and feet were bound and his mouth gagged, he said; he was thrown out of the car and three of his kidnapers drove away. The fourth stayed as a guard all Friday night, Colegrove said, demanding $30,000 ransom, but left early Saturday, apparently alarmed because the others did not return.

It was not until early Sunday morning, Colegrove said, that he was able to break loose and walk to the home of a friend in Springfield, several miles away. There he collapsed and was taken to a hospital.

Gammaitoni and Pouzouti were seized in a blood-stained automobile a few hours after Colegrove was kidnaped. Officials said the men were unable to explain satisfactorily the presence of blood on their car and clothing.

SUES FOR FIRE LOSS IN STORM

Bag Company Sues Power Wires Were Not Protected.

Suit for $25,000 damages was filed in Circuit Court yesterday by Isaac Greenberg, president of the Republic Bag Co., 1439 North Thirtieth street, against the Laclede Power and Light Co.

He alleges that excessive voltage in defendant's power lines entering the factory of the bag company caused a fire July 23 which destroyed materials and other property. The petition sets forth the power lines were not equipped with lightning arresters or other proper protective devices. The fire occurred during a storm, and it was stated at the time it was caused by lightning.

The circulation peak was reached on Oct. 21, 1920, when the total was $5,695,214,613, or $53.31 per capita.

HOW BECKER MET HIS FIRST DEFEAT IN LAST 20 YEARS

Underestimating Strength of Caulfield, Who Backed Winter, Considered Prime Mistake.

By the Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 9.—Charlie Becker finally has lost his mastery over Missouri's voters. The greatest time in many years they failed last Tuesday to give Charlie what he asked them for. His defeat for the Republican nomination for Governor was Becker's first at the polls since 1913, when the Taft-Roosevelt split prevented his election as State Representative from Polk County.

Three times after that, in 1914, 1916 and 1918, Polk County sent Becker to the Legislature, and three times, in 1920, 1924 and 1928, Missouri elected him Secretary of State. In 1920 he received the largest vote ever given for that office. He ran ahead of Coolidge and the entire State ticket in 1924 and again led the State ticket in 1928.

Long noted for his political sagacity, Charlie made mistakes this time, if the post-mortem verdicts mean anything.

The greatest mistake of his campaign apparently was in underestimating Gov. Caulfield's popularity. Although a supporter of Lieutenant-Governor Edward H. Winter from the start, Gov. Caulfield did not plan to take an active part in the campaign until Becker, by repeatedly attacking him and his appointees, especially officials of the penitentiary, so aroused the Governor that he came out in the open for Winter.

When Winter Arrived. Until Caulfield came out on July 29 with a brilliant statement in behalf of Winter, political observers had regarded the Becker-Winter fight as fairly even. Immediately after the Governor's statement, however, the wise ones began saying, "It's Winter."

Gov. Caulfield, in effect, asked for an endorsement of his administration, saying Winter would continue his policies, and the primary result gives him all that he asked. Another Becker blunder, as politicians view it, was his filing nearly a year before any other candidate. This, they say, allowed some of his supporters to cool off long before the primary.

Becker's open support of Mercer Arnold to Joplin for president of the young Republicans of Missouri gave his opponents an opportunity for a moral victory. The regular leaders backed Congressman David Hopkins of St. Joseph, who won handsily, and the result of the election was accounted a defeat for Charlie.

Then, too, Becker violated the unwritten law of politics, never to advertise the enemy's strength. When the lines began to form, Becker caused to be published, in newspapers friendly to him, a list of Gov. Caulfield's appointees who were opposing him. This saved the opposition leaders the trouble even of writing letters back home so early in the campaign.

Etta Country Against City. Becker's three terms as Secretary of State have been marked by many a bitter political clash. A politician of the old school, he has made it a rule to attack his assailants, not answer them.

Becker's friends are as ardent as his enemies. Few persons in politics have been able to regard him impersonally. They hate him or they love him.

He has an intimate knowledge of Missouri and Missourians. His enemies charge he plays the role of a "hill billy" for votes. His friends retort that he is "just common folks." Always in his political fights he pits the city against the country, taking the side of the metropolitan press. His political machine, which worked so well until ditched Tuesday, was his own. Often he augmented the crew by reaching over into the ranks of Democracy to make an appointment or extend a favor.

Becker was always born in his campaigns. He never lacked for managers, but the suggestion was that he gave the orders, at least the important ones.

Born near New Haven, Mo., 61 years ago, Becker attended the rural schools and Cape Girardeau Normal. After teaching school for two years, he worked on newspapers in Kansas City until 1901, when, at the age of 22, he went to Texas to try his luck in the oil fields. His luck was bad and Charlie went into the Ozarks, where he farmed and wrote for Western magazines. He created the character, "Red Strong King of the West," breaking his exile, as he calls it, only once to go to St. Louis to work on the Post-Dispatch for a year.

Missouri to try his luck with Ted or reel.

Becker, who was married shortly before he became Secretary of State, has one daughter, 11 years old.

Complete Returns Give Winter 6196 Plurality Over Becker. With all precincts in the State reported, some of the figures being official and some unofficial, Lieutenant-Governor Winter's plurality over Secretary of State Becker for the Republican nomination for Governor was shown today as 6196. This was an increase of 118 over the last report of incomplete tabulations. The total vote, subject to correction by the official count, is: Winter, 143,780; Becker, 137,584; Leo E. Koehler, 79,611.

INDIANA LIMITS PROPERTY TAX; DEFICIT OF $5,000,000 LIKELY

General Assembly Seeks New Sources of Revenue After Bill Becomes Law.

By the Associated Press.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 9.— Tax rates in Indiana have been limited to $1.50 on each $100 of taxable property and the General Assembly is seeking new tax
sources to make up an expected deficit of $5,000,000 in the 1933
state operating budget.

Gov. Leslie, refusing either to veto or to sign the tax limitation measure, permitted it to become a law at midnight, the expiration of the constitutional three-day limit
since it reached him.

The state's levy on each $100 of taxable property is limited to 15 cents, of which 10.3 cents is absorbed by mandatory levies. The rest, plus prospective revenue from fees, is expected to produce about $7,600,000 for the state general fund from which the assembly has voted more than $12,000,000 in appropriations for next year.

The tax limitation law creates in each county a board of seven members. Although the total levy is limited to $1.50, including the state's 15 cents, five of the board
may declare existence of an emergency and go beyond the limit. Appeal from the county board may be

NURMI OUT AS AMATEUR IN ALL COUNTRIES EXCEPT FINLAND

INTERNATIONAL BOARD SELECTS COMMITTEE TO STUDY HIS CASE

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 9.—Paavo Nurmi probably is through as an amateur outside of his native Finland, even though the International Amateur Athletic Federation has concluded its 1932 congress with official stamping the famous Finn as a professional, or acquiring the executive powers needed to rule him out of the amateur ranks.

Ranking officials of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, including Avery Brundage and Daniel J. Ferris, president and secretary, refused today to pass definitely on whether Nurmi would be permitted to engage in amateur competition in this country.

Fred W. Rubien, American delegate to the I. A. A. F. declared:

"Nurmi is through as an amateur, unless he continues to run only in Finland. We don't know whether he intends to turn pro. The Finns say he will not, and insist he is still in good standing, but the suspension of the International Federation stands, even though the Olympics are over. Under such circumstances, neither the United States nor any other country could accept Nurmi's entry as an amateur."

Finns Claim Moral Victory.
Although the Finns claimed a moral victory yesterday at the federation's congress, they failed to get any definite action clearing Nurmi of the charges of professionalism which caused rejection of his Olympic entry. The vote was so close over granting the Executive Council power to disbar an athlete or member nation, for rules violations, the issue was put over until the 1934 congress in Stockholm.

The vote was 13 to 12 in favor of granting the powers, with the United States casting the deciding vote. The proposition then was reconsidered and failed by a close vote, that is, the suggestion of J. S. Edstrom of Sweden, the president.

For Finland, L. J. Miettinen said: "We consider this restores Nurmi to amateur status, inasmuch as the Federation may have no more power than it had before to disbar him, over our protest. We will certify Nurmi for amateur competition anywhere."

Committee to Study Case.
So sharply divided was the general opinion, as reflected by the close vote, that the suggestion of Sweden, president of the Federation, was instrumental in having the whole issue put into the hands of a committee of seven for study, preparatory to action at the next congress of the I. A. A. F. in 1934.

The committee of seven, named to debate the feasibility of giving the Federation Council broader powers to cope with violations of amateur code, consists of Edstrom, Brundage, Paul Merilamp of France, Douglas Lowe of England, G. D. Sondhi of India, Gen. O'Duffy of Ireland and Urho Kekkonen, president of the Finnish A. A. F.

The Federation decided to hold the next congress in Stockholm, in August, 1934, and to consider sponsoring the same year a series of continental track and field championship meets.

Under the plan discussed, international meets would be held for the Latin-American countries, for North America, the Asiatic and European nations. President Edstrom suggested the European meet be held at Stockholm in connection with the congress of the Federation.

Murray Hulbert of New York was replaced, formally on the Executive Council of the Federation, as American member, by Avery Brundage, Douglas Lowe, the former Olympic 800-meter champion, replaced Sir Harry Barkley as British member.

BROWNS SEND FISHER TO MILWAUKEE CLUB
George Fisher, brought up by the Browns from the Rochester club of the International League, recently, today was released on option to the Milwaukee club of the American Association—the Browns' Class AA farm.

Fisher, who once played with the Cardinals, will depart for Milwaukee tonight.

60 PCT. OFFERED ON FUNDS
LOST IN ALLEGED SWINDLE
This Will Give 2000 Investors
About $2,142,000; Attorney to Get $265,000.
LONDON, Aug. 9.—Approximately $265,000 may fall to H. S. Lee, Chicago attorney, as a result of his successful application to the United States District Court in Northern Illinois for seizure of funds deposited in Chicago banks by Jacob Factor, alleged swindler, it was stated today.
Lee's claim, which was made in behalf of two British clients, Arthur Travis Faber and Agah Hayhurst, is thought also to include those of others who may have been the victims of similar frauds. And Lee would be entitled to 20 per cent of the financial salvage.

Lee's action also aids about 2000
investors in Factor's British companies who, by arrangement with Factor's attorneys, have been offered repayment of more than 20 per cent of the $260,000 (about $2-142,000) they dropped through Factor's alleged activities.
The receiver investigating the Factor concerns has recommended that the shareholders accept the offer, which it was understood they would do, subject to approval of the court.

It was recalled that Factor was charged here with fraud last winter but the British Government's effort to obtain his extradition to England failed in a Chicago court.
Robbed of Auto on Highway.

money by three armed men who forced them to stop on State highway No. 66 near Eureka.

RULES LAID DOWN FOR CREVE COEUR JOBLESS' MEETING

State Health Board Bars
Convention of Liberty
Party Unless Sanitary Regulations Are Met.

Responsibility for sanctioning
the proposed convention of the Jobless-Liberty party at Creve Coeur speedway Aug. 17-18 was placed with the State Board of Health last night at a meeting
sponsored by the St. Louis County League of Municipalities at Clayton City Hall.
Dr. James Stewart, State Health
Commissioner, thereupon exercised the police power of the board by ordering that no meeting be permitted in the county unless sanitary facilities meeting the approval of State and county health officials are ready for operation three days in advance of such an assemblage.

After disclosing that an inspection of the Creve Coeur site Aug.
4 last, at the request of county authorities, showed that sanitary conditions were unsatisfactory for the size of the proposed convention and that no preparations were in progress for drinking water or sewage disposal, Dr. Stewart outlined requirements which would be necessary to be met by Sunday if the convention is to receive the approval of the board.

What Board Requires.
The sanitation requirements are based on recommendations of W. S.
Johnson, engineer for the board,
who conducted the inspection, and on the probably exaggerated expectancy of a crowd of 50,000.

Provision must be made for a daily approved water supply of 150,000 gallons, the report stated,
of not less than 25 pounds of pressure to the square inch. The drinking water must be dispensed
through at least 25 fountains, of a type approved by the board. Proper sewage facilities must be provided.

Garbage and refuse must be collected and disposed of regularly and 25 receptacles for waste must be placed about the grounds. Provision must be made for the disposal of from 10 to 15 tons of refuse and garbage a day. At least 25 litter collectors must be on duty,
carrying bags to collect the litter.

All methods of food handling and sanitation provisions must conform with the regulations of the board and must be "strictly and promptly obeyed." Personnel required by the board to be on duty at the convention includes a plumber to take care of the drinking fountains and an attendant at each comfort station.

Dr. Stewart, who said the inspection revealed the present water supply consists only of four approved cisterns, said that the method of enforcing obedience to the sanitation regulations laid down by the board is to obtain an injunction.

"We are not asking for anything unreasonable," Dr. Stewart said,
"but we do insist on sanitary precautions found necessary all over the country for meetings of this size."

Expects 25,000, Not 50,000.
N. G. Bayster, professional convention manager, who had said previously drinking water would be furnished by hauling it to the site in tanks and icing it, said today that he would go ahead with his plans and "comply with the laws of the State."

"But requirements should not be based on a crowd of 50,000," Bayster, who did not attend the meeting, said, "because we'd be doing well to have 25,000 here."
Dr. Stewart prefaced his exposition of sanitation requirements for the convention by stating that "as officials of the State of Missouri
we wish to extend an invitation to all organizations to meet for a worth-while purpose within our State."

"However, as health officials and hosts it is our duty to provide for the health protection of those visiting within the State as well as our own citizens."
Dr. Stewart indicated that the regulations might be construed
with elasticity to meet varying requirements, but that, in the main,
they comprised sanitation essentials necessary to the convention.

Letter From Father Cox.
Walter J. G. Neun, acting Mayor,
one of the guests at the meeting,
said that a letter had been received from the Rev. James R. Cox, a Catholic priest of Pittsburgh, Pa.,
and leader of the "jobless party,"
stating that the meeting would not be "communist," that the delegates would provide their own transportation, maintain "harmony and order" and leave for home the night of the eighteenth.

The convention, which invited itself to St. Louis County, previously was refused the use of Forest Park by Mayor Miller.
Others in attendance at the meeting, which was presided over by Edward L. Bakewell, Mayor of Huntleigh Village, included Chief of Police Gerk and city officials of every town in the county.
Representatives from various civil organizations also were present.

SAYS KELLOGG PACT
STOPPED JAPANESE

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Secretary of State Stimson last night described the Kellogg-Briand treaties outlawing war as binding the nations together by a new viewpoint
towards war and credited the pact with playing an important part in stopping the Japanese invasion of China. His address was delivered before the Council of Foreign Affairs here, and later he delivered the address again over a National Broadcasting Co. chain.

The Secretary of State challenged assertions that the pact outlawing war was a mere gesture and held that its violation by one signatory served notice on other signatories
that it would not act in good faith.
In explaining the application of the pact in the dispute between Japan and China Stimson said that the United States had participated with the Council of the League of Nations in negotiations which, he said, had the effect of warning
Japan and China that this country
would not recognize any treaty concluded in disregard of the Kellogg-Briand pact. When the League, he said, at a meeting in which 50 nations participated, took a similar position, Japan's representative alone refrained from voting.

Stimson told also how the treaty was applied in the dispute between Russia and China, in which he said
Russian troops were withdrawn after 27 nations had urged that the controversy be settled peacefully.

Deemed Concern of All.
"Except for this new point of view and these covenants," the Secretary said, "these transactions in far off Manchuria, under the rules of international law theretofore obtaining, might not have been deemed the concern of the United States and these 50 other nations."

"Under the former concepts of international law, when such a conflict occurred, it was usually deemed the concern only of the parties to the conflict.

"But now, under the covenants
of the Briand-Kellogg pact, such a conflict becomes of concern to everybody connected with the pact."

Stimson pictured the American Government as a pioneer last January in its note to Japan. It appealed to a new common sentiment
and to the provisions of a treaty
yet untested.

"Its own refusal to recognize the facts of aggression," he said,
"might be of comparatively little moment to an aggressor."

World Opinion Organized.
"But when the entire group of civilized nations took their stand
beside the American Government,
the situation was revealed in its true sense. Moral disapproval
when it becomes the disapproval
of the whole world, takes on a significance hitherto unknown in international law. For never before has international opinion been so organized and so mobilized."

JAPAN INDIGNANT, CALLS FOR TEXT OF STIMSON'S SPEECH
ABOUT MANCHURIA

Tokio Resents Imputation It Was Aggressor Against Whom Whole World Organized and Mobilized as Never Before.

"REPRESENTATIONS"
LIKELY TO BE MADE

Foreign Office First Seeks to Ascertain Whether the Official Version of Address Supports Press Reports of It.

By the Associated Press.

TOKIO, Aug. 9.—The Japanese Foreign Office today asked its Embassy at Washington today to send a detailed report of Secretary of State Stimson's speech in New York with the possibility that "suitable representations" would be made if the official text bears out press reports of the speech.

The Foreign Office spokesman was quoted as voicing indignation over Stimson's references to Manchuria. Officials especially disliked what they said was an unmistakable implication that Japan was the aggressor in Manchuria—aggressor against whom the whole world organized and mobilized as never before.

SAYS KELLOGG PACT
STOPPED JAPANESE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—Secretary of State Stimson last night described the Kellogg-Briand treaties outlawing war as binding the nations together by a new viewpoint towards war and credited the pact with playing an important part in stopping the Japanese invasion of China. His address was delivered before the Council of Foreign Affairs here, and later he delivered the address again over a National Broadcasting Co. chain.

The Secretary of State challenged assertions that the pact outlawing war was a mere gesture and held that its violation by one signatory served notice on other signatories that it would not act in good faith.

In explaining the application of the pact in the dispute between Japan and China Stimson said that the United States had participated with the Council of the League of Nations in negotiations which, he said, had the effect of warning Japan and China that this country would not recognize any treaty concluded in disregard of the Kellogg-Briand pact. When the League, he said, at a meeting in which 50 nations participated, took a similar position, Japan's representative alone refrained from voting.

Stimson told also how the treaty was applied in the dispute between Russia and China, in which he said Russian troops were withdrawn after 37 nations had urged that the controversy be settled peacefully.

Deemed Concern of All.

"Except for the point of view and these covenants," the Secretary said, "these transactions in far off Manchuria, under the rules of international law therefore obtaining, might not have been deemed the concern of the United States and these 50 other nations."

"Under the former concepts of international law, when such a conflict occurred, it was usually deemed the concern only of the parties to the conflict."

"But now, under the covenants of the Briand-Kellogg pact, such a conflict becomes of concern to everybody connected with the pact."

Stimson pictured the American Government as a pioneer last January in its note to Japan. It appealed to a new common sentiment and to the provisions of a treaty yet untested.

"Its own refusal to recognize the fruits of aggression," he said, "might be of comparatively little moment to an aggressor."

World Opinion Organized.

"When the entire group of civilized nations took their stand beside the American Government, the situation was revealed in its true sense. Moral disapproval, when it becomes the disapproval of the whole world, takes on a significance hitherto unknown in international law. For never before has international opinion been so organized and so mobilized."

Consultation between the signatories of the pact, said the speaker, became inevitable when there was a threat of its violation.

"As long as the signatories of the pact support the policy which the American Government has endeavored to establish during the past three years of arousing a united and living spirit of public opinion as a sanction of the pact,

G. O. P. ADVISER DEAD

as long as this course is adopted and endorsed by the great nations of the world who are signatories of that treaty, consultations will take place as an incident to the unification of that opinion," he said.

London Times Says Stimson Takes Real Step Forward.

LONDON, Aug. 9.—The London Times, commenting today on Secretary of State Stimson's address in New York last night concerning the Kellogg-Briand pact, said it marked a real step forward in the organization of world peace and materially improved the prospects for the disarmament conference.

"Mr. Stimson's interpretation of the pact, when accepted by the other signatories, will provide in practice a far greater degree of security for unaggressive nations than could be given by any formal paper guarantee," the editorial said.

Paris Newspaper Praises Stimson Speech as Gesture of Good Will.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Aug. 9.—The newspaper Le Temps emphasized today that Secretary Stimson's speech last night in New York was important because it was a "gesture of good will made to fill the gap existing in the general anti-war pact."

The newspaper's interpretation of the address was that the United States will not be indifferent in any future conflict.

"It is a fact of incontestable political significance for the development of international solidarity," Le Temps said.

BALTIMORE MAYOR PLACES
CITY ON PAY-AS-YOU-GO BASIS

Also Appoints Commission to Study Whole Question of Revenue and Taxation.

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 9.—Placing Baltimore on a pay-as-you-go basis, Mayor Howard W. Jackson has named a commission of 10 business and professional men to study the whole question of taxation and revenue for the city.

His action followed the announcement yesterday by Thomas G. Young, City Collector, the collection of taxes and other accounts was more than $3,000,000 below the expected income of $20,000,000 for the first seven months of the year.

In outlining his plan, the Mayor said the amount of bonds for public improvement should be not more than can be paid for as the work proceeds instead of by long-term loans.

Saying a real estate known as home property should be relieved of the heavy burden of taxation, he asked the commission to study the question of a sales tax on luxuries and the question of more revenue for the city from the State gasoline tax.

JAMES F. BURKE
DIES; COUNSEL FOR
G. O. P. COMMITTEE

President Hoover and Cabinet Members Escort Body to Train Bearing It to Pittsburgh.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—President Hoover and members of his cabinet today rode in a funeral procession accompanying the body of James Francis Burke, counsel for the Republican National Committee, to Union Station where it was placed on a special car to be taken to Pittsburgh for interment, Friday.

Before returning to the White House the President, who earlier had paid tribute to Burke, took part in an impressive ceremony in the President's room of the station.

Head uncovered, he stood in silence for several minutes while the casket holding Burke's body was carried past and on to the waiting train. With him were Secretary Hurley, Postmaster-General Brown, Secretary Doak, Undersecretary of the State Department, Assistant Secretary Heath of the Treasury, Senator Moses of New Hampshire, and George Deh. Kelm, secretary of the Republican National Committee.

Mr. Burke died last night a few hours after he had conferred with President Hoover.

In announcing the death, the White House said that the President notified that Mr. Burke "appeared ill and directed his physician, Dr. Joel T. Boone, to attend him."

Removed to the hospital at Dr. Boone's orders, Burke died before midnight. The cause of death was given as coronary thrombosis. He was 55 years old.

He had planned to join Mrs. Burke and sail from New York today for Europe.

A successor to Burke, who had served four years as committee counsel, will be chosen by the National Committee.

Burke was born in Petroleum Center, Pa. Oct. 21, 1867. He represented the United States in the parliamentary peace conference in Brussels in 1905. While at the University of Michigan, where he received a law degree, he organized and was president of the nationwide Republican College League, which brought him to the attention of party leaders.

In 1932 he was chosen secretary of the National Committee. Later he was appointed to codify the United States navigation laws, and represented the Thirty-first Pennsylvania District in Congress, becoming Republican whip. He also prepared the Constitution of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States and was its first counsel at Washington.

President Hoover, a friend of Burke for many years, said in a statement today:

"I feel deeply the loss of James Francis Burke. He was an ardent supporter and a high official of the Republican party."

"In addition he was identified with a multitude of public movements, not only in his own city but over the country. For many years he gave his time and service to matters of public interest in every direction in the public good. An indefatigable worker, he labored for the country he loved up to the hour of his death."

General Plans to See Maneuvers in Poland—Trade Relations With Russia at Stake.

Post-Dispatch Bureau, 201-295 Kellogg Bldg.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The intention of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff of the army, to attend military maneuvers in Poland and Rumania next month is causing considerable anxiety among State Department officials who have been seeking to promote better relations between this country and Soviet Russia. Poland and Rumania are recognized as potential enemies of Russia, and although Gen. MacArthur insists that his visit is in the nature of a vacation, the Soviet press is investing it with more significance.

During recent days the Moscow newspapers, in commenting upon the General's forthcoming visit to the Russian border states, have coupled it with his recent part in the expulsion of unemployed veterans from Washington and his subsequent public statement that the men were driven out because they were influenced by radicals and Communists.

Parley With Litvinoff.

The incident occurs at a time when State Department officials were optimistic over prospective improvement in the relations between this country and Russia. During Secretary Stimson's presence in Geneva last spring, certain feelers were put forward which resulted in a meeting among Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet Minister of Foreign Affairs, and two American representatives.

Litvinoff was informed that two long-standing objections to recognition of Russia by the United States—namely, seizure of American property and non-payment of Russian debts to this country—had virtually disappeared, because most of the seized property has been returned, and collection of the Russian debt has ceased to be regarded as important in view of the situation which has arisen concerning other foreign debts.

The Americans did insist upon the suppression of the Third Internationale, propaganda organization of the Communist party. Litvinoff replied that the Internationale was not a governmental institution, and that the Soviet Government had no more legal authority to suppress it than the United States Government has

Under Reapportionment, G. O. P.
Gains 12 Electoral College Votes

Change Sufficient to Give Party Advantage in Close Contest for the Presidency.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Reapportionment of House representation has resulted in a possible Republican gain of 12 votes in the new electoral college. This big shift in the voting strength of 32 states may have unusual bearing on the outcome of the approaching presidential election. It was brought about by the transfer of 27 Congressional seats from 21 to 11 states through reapportionment on the basis of the 1930 census.

Thirteen normally Republican states lost 15 seats, but seven gained 21 increasing their total by six. Eight normally Democratic states lost 12 and four gained six, decreasing their total by six. That leaves a net Republican gain of 12.

With this apparent gain, and under ordinary political conditions, the Republicans would be at an advantage in a close contest between President Hoover and Gov. Roosevelt.

Should this occur, the election result might be thrown into dispute when the House and Senate convene on the second Wednesday of next February to poll the electoral college votes. They number 531, representing the 435 House and 96 Senate seats.

Under the Constitution, Congress is required to reapportion the Representatives every 10 years on the basis of population and each State receives as many electoral votes as it has Representatives and Senators.

A majority of the various states' electoral votes elects a President.

The Republicans gained nine votes in President Hoover's normal Republican State of California; four in Michigan; two each in New Jersey, New York and Ohio, and one each in Connecticut and Washington. But in staunch Republican states they suffered, losing two each in Iowa and Pennsylvania, and one each in Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Minnesota, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Rhode Island, North and South Dakota, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Democratic gains included three in Texas, and one each in North Carolina, Oklahoma and Florida. Their losses included three in Missouri, two each in Georgia and Kentucky, and one each in Alabama, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

The Congress that will be elected under the reapportionment in November does not come into being until March 4, and it is the lame duck session of the present Congress that will pass upon the electoral votes of the new college.

Inform Neutrals That Existing Positions in Gran Chaco Must Be Basis of Negotiations.

By the Associated Press.

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Aug. 9.—Bolivia informed neutral nations today that it is willing to suspend hostilities pending arbitration of its dispute with Paraguay and the neutral Powers consent to the present positions in the Gran Chaco as the basis of negotiations.

The neutral nations have urged suspension of hostilities tomorrow.

U. S. and Others Urge Bolivia to Lay Down Arms.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Representatives of the United States and other neutrals have called on Bolivia to lay down its arms in the Chaco boundary dispute with Paraguay by daybreak tomorrow, and at the same time, Paraguay has been apprised of the terms of the note to Bolivia and asked to prepare to suspend hostilities and warlike preparations.

Mexico, Cuba and Colombia joined the United States in this effort to avert war; Uruguay also is understood to have concurred.

The text of the note sent to Bolivia has not been made public, but it is learned that the neutrals "insisted" on compliance with the suggestions and asked for a prompt reply. The note asked for cessation of hostilities under an armistice based on the position of troops in the Chaco on June 1 and allowed until Aug. 10 to comply.

The note immediately followed a complaint from Paraguay that Bolivia's 21,000 troops accepted. The average price was $2.86.

NEW LEHAR OPERETTA SUNG IN FOREST PARK

"The Land of Smiles," a magnificent stage spectacle of Tremendous Proportions.

THE LAND OF SMILES, an operetta by Franz Lehár, presented for the first time in St. Louis by the Municipal Opera company, will be sung at Forest Park, St. Louis, on Thursday, Sept. 8, at the date of her wedding to George Townner Senseney, son of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Townner Senseney, 4555 Pershing avenue. The wedding will take place at St. Christy's Church. The bride party is not complete and will be announced later.

By H. H. NIEMEYER.

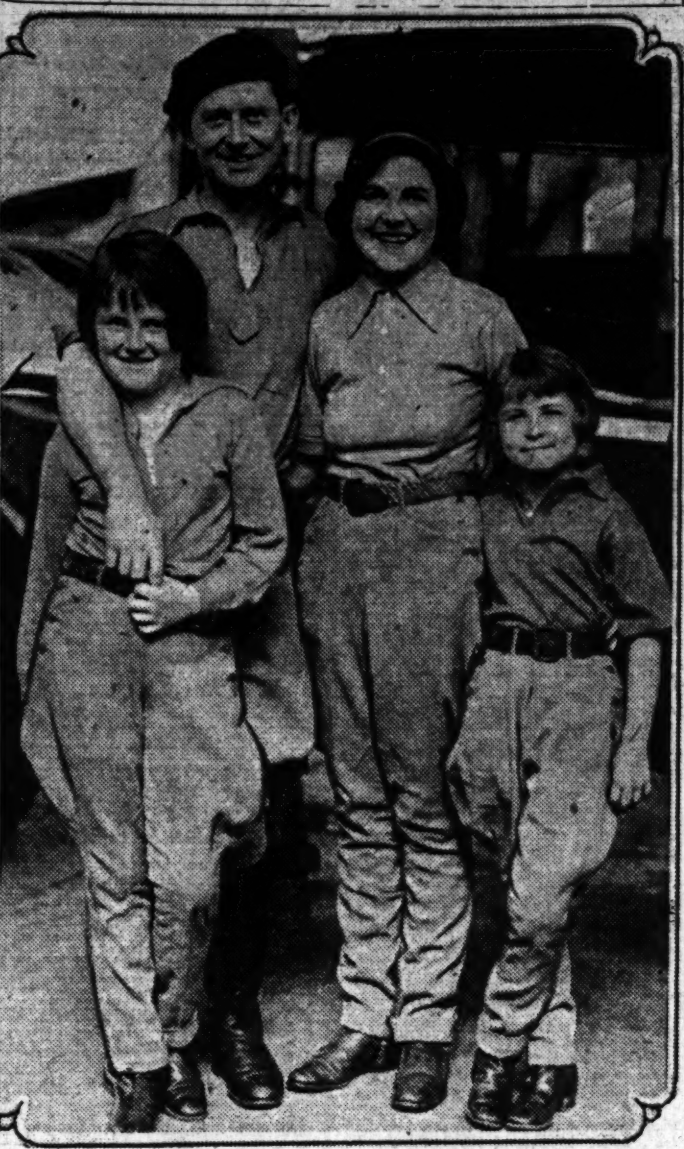

ON the first time since it was played, briefly, in New Jersey a couple of seasons ago Franz Lehár's newest Viennese-Chinese operetta, "The Land of Smiles," was presented at the Municipal Opera in Forest Park last night in a gorgeous setting provided by Watson Barratt. It was almost an American premier for this opera by the author of "The Merry Widow," for neither New York, nor any other city outside of New York, where but three performances were given, had ever seen the play and Lehár's music has not been circulated over the radio or through any other channels. The piece, too, served to bring back to the park stage Miss Gladys Baxter, last summer's prima donna, who was given a most enthusiastic reception on her first appearance last evening.

Lehár's music drama is, in reality, genuine light opera of the highest order despite the injection here and there, of some American music comedy ideas by Edgar Smith and Harry Clark who fashioned the book for use in this country, and the introduction of some elements of the Broadway order in the main, however, Lehár's score prevails and while the composer has not produced another "Merry Widow" the offering is one of the best things the Municipal Opera organization has staged in its 14 years of life in Forest Park.

"The Land of Smiles" is a distinctly a piece written almost to order for the vast outdoor stage although Lehár probably never dreamed of his work being presented on so magnificent a scale. Much of the success of the piece must depend upon the rare beauty of its settings and it is doubtful if the play will ever prove as great a treat, indoors, as it did last night. St. Louis need not be concerned with that matter however, and "The Land of Smiles" is a Municipal Opera triumph.

In Vienna and China. The story of this new Lehár offering with its theme of East is East and West is West is based upon Victor Leon's old drama, "The Yellow Jacket," and unfolds a dramatic romance which begins with a prologue laid in China in the days of the Boxer rebellion—a prologue, by the way, which might be dispensed with entirely, for the plot is retold later in the main play—and then moves on to the Vienna of today. In that gay city Clifford Newdahl, as Prince Chu Chang, who, it develops, is not a Chinaman at all but a white man brought up in a princely Chinese family, is the Manchurian Ambassador. He meets and loves the gay Countess Lisa (Miss Baxter) and his love is returned, although Lisa's heart is already given to Allan Jones, a young Austrian officer. Chu Chang is called back to his adopted country to assume the role of Prince Regent of all China and the Countess plans an elopement. George Houston, as the

Occupants of "Flying Bungalow" Who Plan to Try the Atlantic

COL. AND MRS. GEORGE HUTCHINSON with their two daughters, 8-year-old KATHRYN (left), and JANET LEE, 6. Hutchinson announced yesterday that the family would attempt a trans-Atlantic flight within the next ten days. The route will be from Washington, over Labrador, Iceland and the Faroe Islands to Edinburgh. The girls will keep up their geography lessons on the flight.

Prince's faithful tutor and advisor, intervenes and sees to it that Lisa drinks a cup of tea which contains a powerful drug, a drug which causes her to see, in a dream, what would happen if she journeyed to the Flowery Kingdom to upset the traditions and demands of the centuries of the Orient.

The second act sees the unfolding of her dream, and the opening scene, with its Chinese soldiers in weird masks and uniforms and its tremendous setting in a royal Chinese garden is one of the most magnificent pictures ever put on any stage. The final act goes back to Vienna, with Lisa awakening and finding that her happiness and true love is to be found with her young Lieutenant.

The American Touch. Throughout the story wanders Harry K. Morton, an American-born Chinaman, who is the valet to the Prince. Mr. Morton is very funny indeed, in a boisterous way, and it may be presumed that the offensive vulgarity in his opening song will be eliminated before this evening's performance and that some of his wise cracks, which come later, on a subject not open to discussion outside of a clinic, will also be dispensed with. In another comedy role, George Hassell is tremendously funny as the guardian of the Royal House of Wom-en in Pekin and Barbara Newberry is delightful in a pretty dance, a fetching Chinese costume. WELCOME INN BEGINS CANNING FOR NEEDY Welfare Organization Hopes to Put Up 50,000 Jars of Fruits and Vegetables.

The canning season has begun at Welcome Inn, welfare organization with headquarters under the Free Bridge.

During the last week about 2500 quarts of tomatoes have been put up and the canning crew has begun filling jars with beets. Last year about 40,000 quarts of apples, peaches, pears, beans and tomatoes were preserved and distributed to the needy who come to the inn for food twice a week. The canned fruits and vegetables are issued to supplement the regular rations.

Mrs. Nat S. Brown, president of the welfare organization, said it hopes to fill 50,000 jars with fruits and vegetables this season, ready for the winter, when it is anticipated relief demands will be heavier than ever before.

The canning season ends with the last of the apples, usually about the middle of October. The fruits and vegetables are donated by commission men and farmers. Jars are contributed also but the tops and rubbers are purchased.

Canning is done by needy women, preference being given to unemployed mothers. About 20 were working at the inn today. Last year, at the peak of the season, 104 were employed at one time.

No wages are paid but the workers are fed while they are working and may draw on the inn's supply of shoes and clothing.

The work is done systematically, although with home-made equipment. One group washes the vegetables, another peels, another cooks, another cans and still another washes the jars.

The cooking is done on a home-made brick furnace 18 feet long and 18 inches wide, equipped with grates from old locomotives. A bathtub, found in a junk yard, is used as a wash boiler.

So efficient are the canners that they only lost six out of 3000 quarts of string beans put up last season, Mrs. Brown said.

Used tires are needed, she said, for three trucks and a car that collect donated supplies, some of which were donated by the Welfare Organization.

The opera, however, is not one of individual efforts. Rather, it is a stupendous spectacle, with music, made to attract the eye, and Mr. Barratt has done his work so beautifully that the glamour of the whole production will long remain a mark for other producers to shoot at—and, probably, miss.

Miss Baxter sang her role admirably, as did Mr. Newdahl and Mr. Jones with most of the musical numbers falling to these three, usually in duet combinations. The most outstanding one was a very lovely duo, sung over a cup of tea in the first act, by Miss Baxter and Mr. Newdahl, and a solo by the latter, "Yours is My Heart Alone," in the second act, was another high spot of the evening. The music, when the Schubert directors chose to stick to the original Lehár score, was truly delightful and the occasional lapses into Tin Pan Alley were, perhaps, pardonable, the demands of a large section of theatergoers being what they are.

Taken all in all, "The Land of Smiles" will rank first, by a wide margin, in Municipal Opera history.

$750,000 PLAGIARISM SUIT
OVER PLAY 'OF THEE I SING'

Walter Lowenfels Charges Prize Winning Comedy Is Similar to Work He Copyrighted in 1930.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—A plagiarism suit against the producers of the Pulitzer Prize winning play, "Of Thee I Sing," was filed in Federal Court yesterday by Walter Lowenfels, poet and playwright.

Lowenfels seeks an injunction to stop the comedy and asks the confiscation of plates, manuscript and published volumes and an accounting for profits estimated at between $750,000 and $1,000,000.

His complaint lists 40 pages of alleged similarities between "Of Thee I Sing" and a work he copyrighted in February, 1930, called "U. S. A. With Music." He said it was produced in Germany as "U. S. A. Mit Music."

Lowenfels was a co-winner with E. E. Cummings of the Richard Aldington poetry prize.

is refreshing

"My dear —
you have no idea
how shocked
I was...!"

"YOU know I spent the week-end with Helen. Someone really ought to speak to her. She's such a nice girl, and she's perfectly fastidious about everything else. But she wears her underthings a second day—and everybody perspires a little. Why does she run the risk of offending?"

Personal daintiness! The subject of whispered comment, veiled hints. Lose it and you lose all chance of social acceptance.

Fresh lingerie each day is absolutely essential to daintiness. All day long underthings absorb perspiration. A daily change is even more important than a daily bath. And it's so easy! For Lux removes every trace of perspiration, yet protects colors and fabrics. It takes four minutes or less. Wash underthings and stockings in Lux after each wearing.

Underthings absorb perspiration odor. Avoid Offending:

Try Lux FREE! Try this wonderful care for your underthings at our expense. Just send us your name and address, and by return mail you will receive a full-sized package of Lux free.

Write today to Lever Brothers Company, Dept. GX-13 Cambridge, Massachusetts.

1 Wash this 4-minute way:
One tablespoon of Lux does 1 day's undies... stockings, too! Use lukewarm water—Lux dissolves instantly in it. Squeeze suds through fabric, rinse twice.

2 Wash after each wearing, for perspiration acids left in silk fade colors and rot threads. Lux removes perspiration acids and odors completely—leaves colors like new.

3 Avoid ordinary soaps—cakes, powders, chips. These often contain harmful alkali, which robs silk of its life, weakens threads, fades color. Lux has no harmful alkali. Anything safe in water alone is safe in Lux.

HAY FEVER MISERY

relieved by disposable tissues

Instead of Irritating handkerchiefs...

use

KLEENEX
Disposable tissues

HAY FEVER SUFFERERS—don't try to get through another season without Kleenex.

Kleenex puts an end to discomfort caused by damp, irritating handkerchiefs. Puts an end to big laundry bills, too—and to disagreeable washing.

Kleenex is a soft tissue, now used regularly for handkerchiefs. It's the size of a handkerchief, gentle, absorbent, snowy white, or tinted, if you prefer.

Softest... yet Strongest

You can use many Kleenex Tissues for the cost of having one handkerchief laundered.

You'll find Kleenex

invaluable for many uses... removing face creams, caring for baby, cleaning bathroom fixtures.

Try the large size Kleenex, too—tissues three times usual size. It's ideal for guest towels and general household use. At any drug or department store.

KLEENEX disposable TISSUES

*KERFS... are smart handkerchiefs—like Kleenex, but bordered, and 4 thick-nesses instead of 2.

NEW TAX LAW HELPS SWELL COLLECTIONS IN AUGUST

For First Six Days Gain From This Source Is $5,000,000; Meantime Deficit Grows

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. — The new billion dollar tax bill contributed today to increasing collections from miscellaneous internal revenue during the first six days of August to $4,992,677 more than those in the corresponding period last year.

Total receipts from this source, the Treasury announced today, amounted to $14,439,329. Receipts from the new tax bill were reflected only in collections for the last nine days of June.

Income taxes collected were $1,400,000 less than for the corresponding period last year. Customs receipts were $4,172,000 less.

Meanwhile the Government's deficit rose on Aug. 6 to $216,432, $21. The Government collected from all sources $17,174,697, and spent $487,183,868 during the six days.

National banks have been taking advantage of the Glass-Steagall amendment to the home loan bank act by making loans to issue notes on the basis of Government bonds bearing not more than 3 1/2 per cent interest as security.

Since July 30, national bank notes outstanding have increased $14,645,555 to $12,057,575, while the circulation has increased $5,724,517 to $724,937,668.

CHICAGO RADIOLOGIST HELD ON CHARGE OF WIFE MURDER

Action Taken After Coroner's Jury Declines to Fix Responsibility for Death

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Aug. 9. — Shortly after a coroner's jury returned a verdict yesterday that Mrs. Vera Sparf O'Brien, 26 years old, died from an excessive dose of a sleeping drug, police booked her husband, Dr. William A. O'Brien, pathologist and radiologist, on murder charges.

The jury refused, from evidence at hand, to decide whether she took the drug or if it was administered to her.

Police made public three new suicide notes, purportedly written by Mrs. O'Brien. One other, previously published, was found near her body. A hand and foot print, said Mrs. O'Brien did not write the notes.

Mrs. Wanda Conklin, sister of Mrs. O'Brien, testified O'Brien three times had threatened to kill his wife and had beaten her. On cross-examination, she admitted her sister had threatened suicide.

O'Brien was arraigned today and said multiple witnesses told Judge Leon Edelman he could "explain everything, but not to the police." The State asked for and received a continuance for 30 days.

One woman was taken to a hospital suffering from smoke and shock, and several firemen were overcome. The firemen quickly recovered and returned to their work. The fire was caused by the short circuiting of a power cable.

Firemen extinguished the blaze by dumping tons of water into the tunnels.

ACCUSED EMBEZZLER OF $695,000 INDICTED

New York Brokerage Cashier
Gets Chance to Untangle
His Accounts.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—George D. Phelan, dapper, stocky bachelor of 39, accused of embezzlement of $695,000 from the brokerage firm of J. S. Bachs & Co., has been indicted for the specific larceny of $1900 and held in the relatively low bail of $20,000 so he might untangle the accounts he was accused of doctoring over a period of years. He said he was not guilty.

Phelan, in the words of Assistant District Attorney Morris Panger, confessed the peculations last month "because his conscience was troubling him." He was said to have hit the high spots on Broadway and to have given night club singers tips as high as $1000 when they could make him weep with Irish songs.

He had been employed by the brokerage house for 20 years and for 18 years was in charge of a petty cash account of $1,000,000. He received $100 a week during prosperous times but had recently been cut to $60 a week. He was accused of having juggled his books so as always to show the proper balance.

Attorney-General Says
Work as Safeway Inc., Counsel Does Not Interfere With State Duties.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 9.—Attorney-General Stratton Sharitel today issued a statement explaining his acceptance of employment as an attorney for the Safeway Stores, Inc., a grocery chain organization operating in several Western States, while he still was serving as Attorney-General of Missouri. Sharitel said he had been employed by the company since June 10.

It was learned that Sharitel had been employed by the company after inquiry had been made concerning his frequent absences from his office. Sharitel issued the statement after he was asked about the nature of the employment.

Sharitel did not disclose the exact nature of his duties or the salary, but declared it would take only a part of his time and would not interfere with his official duties. In recent weeks Sharitel has spent a considerable part of his time at the headquarters of the company for his division in Kansas City, and in visiting units of the organization in Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma.

He Cites Opinion.
"In view of the fact that my term of office as Attorney-General expires in a few months, I take pleasure in announcing that I have been retained as one of the attorneys for Safeway Stores, Inc."

Sharitel said in a brief statement handed to reporters, "Under my contract I am to give only a small part of my time. This employment does not or will not interfere or be in conflict with my official duties."

As to the propriety of his accepting the employment while still serving as Attorney-General, Sharitel cited an opinion he obtained from several lawyers about a year ago, holding that there was nothing in the Missouri Constitution or laws which prevented the Attorney-General from engaging in the private practice of law while holding the office. The opinion was signed by former Attorney-General John T. Barker of Kansas City, former Attorney-General Robert W. Otto of St. Louis, James A. Potter of Jefferson City, a former assistant Attorney-General, Assistant Attorney-General Edward G. Robinson, and several others.

Term Expires This Year.
Sharitel said there were no tax or corporation matters relating to the company that would come up during the remainder of his term, expiring at the end of this year, which would conflict with his official duties as Attorney-General. His department handles suits for State Departments against corporations over tax and corporate matters. Sharitel said the company had some stores in Kansas City and planned further expansion in Missouri.

It is known that at one time Sharitel planned to resign from his office to accept the private retainer, but later decided not to resign. Had he resigned his successor for the remainder of his term would have been appointed by Gov. Caulfield.

Sharitel was subjected to considerable criticism during the investigation of the collapse of the brokerage firm of W. H. Young & Bros., Inc., of St. Louis, in 1930, when it was learned that Sharitel had acted as local attorney for the company at the State Capitol in 1929 and 1930, at a retainer of $3000 a year, while he was Attorney-General.

He declared he did not perform any services for the fee and he had no knowledge of the nature of securities promoted by Young Bros. Investors in the firm lost more than $2,000,000 through its failure.

Sharitel's salary as Attorney-General is $3000 a year and additional fees he receives for serving on several State boards provide an additional compensation of $1500 to $2000 a year.

Paraguay Denies Charges; Willing to Submit to Arbitration.
GENEVA, Switzerland, Aug. 9.—

Three letters from Paraguay, including a statement that Paraguay would submit to arbitration of its Gran Chaco boundary dispute with Bolivia and would "never declare war," were made public by the League of Nations last night.

The first note, from the Paraguayan delegate at Paris, denied a reported Bolivian statement that Paraguay had not ratified the Kellogg anti-war pact. It said that Paraguay ratified the pact Oct. 4, 1929.

Paraguay would never declare war or indulge in acts of hostility without declaring war, the note said, adding that it would submit to arbitration and even permit the arbitrators to frame the terms for reference.

The second letter, dated Aug. 6, complained of the bombardment of Mennonite colonies, especially in the Chaco. The attack was described as particularly relentless. This, it alleged, was part of a plan to divert a Mennonite migratory current from Paraguay and prevent a new contingent of emigrants from joining their co-religionists in the Chaco. Six hundred Mennonite families are on the way from Harbin, Manchuria, under League auspices.

The third letter, from Foreign Minister Higinio Arbo, confirmed the statement that Paraguay was prepared for a solution of the dispute by arbitration or other legal means.

A Night On an Old-Time Showboat

E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

CHAPTER FOURTEEN

HE smiled and Argels knew that his first impression was right. He realized more than ever, too, that, although she apparently used no cosmetics or even lipstick, and, although her figure was slim and shapeless as a boy's, she was a remarkably attractive young woman.

"Well, how do you propose to find these things out?" she inquired. "Shall I go to a clairvoyant for you, or a palmist?"

"I think that will scarcely be necessary," he assured her, with a smile. "I trust no one but myself in these matters. Would it be possible—I don't know what your domestic arrangements are—to see you after office hours this evening and discuss the matter?"

"My domestic affairs," she explained, "mean that I have a tiny two-roomed flat of my own in a respectable neighborhood, that I have no relatives in London, and that I am not married, if that is what you are thinking about. If I were I shouldn't be looking about for a post."

"Then will you dine with me at 8 o'clock, in a quiet place—say Ketter's, in Soho?"

"Certainly," she assented. "Try to make up your mind by then, if you can."

"My mind will be made up," Argels told her, touching a buzzer on his desk, "after we have had half an hour's conversation."

"Is 8 o'clock at Ketter's?"

"In the meanwhile, good morning, Miss Withers. I hope that before long we shall both be congratulating ourselves upon your enterprise in coming to see me."

He sat for several moments at his desk after her departure, playing with his new idea. The more he thought of it, the more it pleased him. Then he rang for Gascongne and plunged into the day's affairs.

At 5 o'clock, that afternoon Reuben Argels, after a strenuous day's work, stepped out of his handsome but rather too showy appointed Rolls-Royce, rang the bell of a maisonette in Curzon street, and was admitted by the saute, but silent Francis.

"Is Madame at home?" he inquired.

"Is Madame received your telephone message and will see you, sir?"

The butler led the way into a small apartment at the rear of the half-house, half-boudoir. The walls were hung with orange-colored satin. There were yellow roses everywhere. The room was furnished in the best French style, stiffly, with a few Louis XVI. touches, a marvellous writing table of the same period, and an upright, utterly correct divan, Ambouyna, who was writing at a table, turned around and waved her hand.

"You are somewhat late," she remarked, seating herself with caution upon the divan.

"Your type of furniture makes that something of an enterprise," Argels remarked, seating himself with caution upon the divan.

"I am just finishing a letter. Sit down, will you?"

The Picturesque Floating Playhouses Present Melodramas, Old and New—Their Business Is Still Thriving.

—By OLIVER F. FINK—

SUNSET on the Missouri River: the pastel shades of blue and orange and red of sky and river broken afar over the water by irregular fringe of trees, on the hither side by the green shimmering leaves and the amber of tree trunks of the grove—elms, oaks, sycamores—that edges up to the water.

Tranquil—until shimmering over the trestle, reverberating over the water, setting the leaves to shivering, rises the shrill crescendo, the hoarse modulations of a callopolo—"But Old Man River—r-r-r, keeps right on rolling along."

It breaks the silence, the tranquility, abruptly and roughly, yet it seems to belong there. It does not jar on the nerves in that idyllic setting; it acts as a tonic, lending buoyancy to the spirit.

"Callopolo, callopolo, tooting hope, tooting hope," sang for his supper the late Vachel Lindsay, and there you have it, that something in anticipation.

The something is the showboat, tied up in the cove at Music's Landing. That accounts for the clusters of people who have arrived early and are waiting about for others single-filing down path, washed rocky by rain and flood.

It is still early—the show does not start until 8:15—and although the gangplank is laid, the showboat is bare of all except the personnel. It is a long craft, two "stories" high and surmounted by the pilot house, freshly white painted, as spick and span in appearance as an excursion boat. It looks, from the outside, somewhat like an excursion boat, only it is more "box-like" and rectangular.

A rail-guarded catwalk runs the full length along the side on the upper deck; the upper "story" has a sort of promenade deck all the way around, with chairs and awning for the after—or is it the fore—part, at the entrance to the balcony seats. In large letters along the side, above the promenade, is the name of the boat "Hollywood," below the promenade in still larger letters between the nine windows is "showboat."

It is dusk, but there is still time for an inspection of the boat, time to make the acquaintance of the personnel. Some of the employees are in the lobby on the lower deck, talking. Two of the owners, J. W. Menke and B. F. Menke, are up the ticket office. They are friendly, thinking—no, quiet, spoken despite the overburden of the callopolo. They would be glad to have you look over the boat, to able him to advise Andrew Pulwitzer about a strange business.

"The whole idea is absurd," he warned him. "As they told you over the telephone, I have to go to the studio this evening."

"Very well," he promised. "I shall not detain you. I came to find out from you, in plain words, if you cared to tell me, whether, to your knowledge, anyone would be passing between Andrew Pulwitzer and Moran?"

"Only a few minutes more," she warned him. "As they told you over the telephone, I have to go to the studio this evening."

THE business of being a showboat actor is not so easy a job, according to management and cast of the one tied up on the Missouri River at the end of Hall's Ferry road.

In the first place, the shows are given the year around, by following the seasons north and south, so actors have no long "leture" periods. Also, they play every night in the week, and if attendance warrants, there are Saturday and Sunday afternoon matinees.

On top of that is the extensive repertoire necessary—one each week for 52 weeks in the year, as a rule. And the type ranges from the old-time thrillers to present day realistic plays. The old timers, however, seem to be the most popular, because people cannot see them at the theaters or movies, and for all the scoffing, showboatmen declare, people are still touched by the "homey old sentiments"—like Bill Werman, version play of the "Hollywood," who has been 15 years a showboat pilot, but admits he still cries every time he sees "The Lure of the City."

So while "The Cat and the Canary" and similar plays are given, the melodrama gets the preference. Some of the more popular ones are "Lena Rivers," "Ten Nights in a Barroom," "East Lynne," "The Thing Called Love," "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" and those of that type. There are also "Why Girls Walk Home," "The Hoodlum," "The Villain" and "Tilly Ann," which are sort of in-between.

In their manner to indicate they feel it is a comedown, because an oversophisticated public may class showboats with medicine shows. They are actors, with year-around jobs, not seasonal stock work, and they don't have to jump from hotel to hotel; their hotel moves with them.

Salaries are good as stock; they say, they get their food and lodging with it—and it is good food, too, they assert emphatically—they can fish and swim during the day, tie up at a southern river town during the winter. And as for the good old-time melodrama, but it takes acting to put that across as well as the modern stuff, and no ham can keep up when the repertoire calls for more than half a hundred different roles. That is what a showboat actor has to do, know all those parts, some melodrama, some in modern plays. For showboats of today consider modern plays to which rights are bought while they are still fresh from Broadway, as important as the old time.

And as for versatility. . . . Gardiner is not only a comedian, he plays the drums and bells in the orchestra, and the callopolo, James O'Brien, who is character actor and the "heavy," is clarinetist.

Arthur Rice, who takes small parts in orchestra director and pianist; Michael Wagner plays the saxophone and clarinet and also has to take parts in the plays.
